FIVE PERSONS ARE KILLED IN FLOOD

FIVE GERMANS ARE SHOT TO DEATH

Charged With Violating State of Siege Rule

CITY OFFICIALS ARRESTED

Way May be Paved for Settlement of Ruhr Dispute

BORTMUND — (United Press) — Five Germans were shot and killed by French troops here during the night for violation of the state of siege provision forbidding civilians to be on the streets after dark. The killings followed closely the assassination of two French officers by three German civilians here Sunday.

The acting mayor of the town and head of the civil police have been arrested. The center of Dortmund is swarming with French troops in an ugly mood.

A French account of the incident last night, is that the Germans who were killed refused to halt at the command of a patrol.

CONFERENCE PLANNED

LONDON — (Associated Press) — Lord Curzon had an important conference with the French ambassador this morning. The British foreign secretary, arguing that the French government accept Berlin's latest reparations proposals as a basis for negotiations. If France will do this, Lord Curzon will inform Germany, it was stated, of the French government's willingness to discuss the problem collectively with the allies.

Great Britain, it is explained, will then endeavor to obtain from Berlin a pledge of the cancellation of the orders for passive resistance in the Ruhr which Premier Poincare has named as a condition precedent to any purpursers. If Germany acquiesces in this, steps will be taken to convene an international conference for the settlement of the whole dispute.

FRANCE READY

PARIS — (Associated Press) — Xactly to the recent German note is considered necessary so far as France is concerned, it was said at the foreign office this forenoon but if the allies desire to improve the opportunity to resume a general discussion of the reparations question France is ready.

A reply by the allies in common, it is held in official circles would require probably several weeks of negotiations because of the impossibility of their uniting in answer until they themselves come to an arrangement. The only united action by the allies now feasible in the view of France, it was said, would be a common notice to Germany that she must cease her passive resistance to the execution of the terms of Versailles.

This means, it is explained, that France at present is still unwilling to make further concessions in order to render a united reply by the allies possible.

Premier Poincare will probably object to a new allied conference, at least for the moment, it is thought.

FISH BATTLE ENDS

Sea Monster is Landed in Florida After Day's Fight

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — (Associated Press) — A huge sea monster thirty-two feet long, twenty feet wide and estimated to weigh more than 20,000 pounds, has been landed at Long Key after a day's struggle during which fifty bullets from a high powered rifle were fired into it, according to a telegram last night to the Times Union from Miami. One of the party of fishermen that captured the prize. The monster was harpooned Saturday evening but put up a struggle that required a constant fight until late yesterday to land it. Dispatches from Miami stated that efforts were being made in behalf of the American Museum of Natural History of New York to obtain the huge fish.

WARNING ISSUED TO MOTORISTS

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Aware that the summer season brings the peak of automobile travel and increased highway hazards, the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce has issued a warning to twelve million motorists:

1. The cautions total seven:
2. Would you willingly injure a child?
3. Drive reasonably.
4. Put your city on the Safety Roll.
5. Remember you are at times a pedestrian.
6. "After you" in courtesy on the road, as well as in the doorway.
7. Keep the brakes in perfect condition.

A small percentage of the motoring public causes the thousands of motor accidents and fatalities which occur every season. It is the aim of the automobile world in 1923 to stimulate this havoc-making minority to eligibility in the Safe Drivers' Club.

PASSENGERS ARE ROUTED BY FIRE

Pennsy Train Shed at Philadelphia is Destroyed

COACHES AND MAIL BURNED

Loss is Estimated at Over Million Dollars

PHILADELPHIA — (Associated Press) — Fire early today practically destroyed the train shed of Broad Street station, the Philadelphia terminus of the Pennsylvania railroad. A quantity of mail and baggage and a number of passenger coaches also were consumed. The flames spread westward and did not reach the main building containing the waiting rooms and ticket offices. These, however, were damaged by water. The general offices of the company were not damaged.

There was no official estimate of the loss but it was believed it would approximate more than $1,000,000. Outgoing train service was delayed several hours.

The fire started shortly after 1 a. m. under the wooden platform in the train shed and spread so rapidly that many passengers in sleeping cars standing on the track had difficulty in making their escape.

FLAME FROM BUILDING

Dense volumes of smoke soon filled the shed and poured into the waiting room and other parts of the station. Incoming passengers, however, managed to grope their way through the exits. Hundreds of persons waiting for outgoing trains fled from the building when smoke began to come thru the windows and doors. Intense excitement prevailed and to add to the confusion the lights went out in some parts of the station. Some of the arriving passengers spent the night at hotels, but a majority continued to their destinations when service was restored.

Hundreds of streams of water were poured on the flames, but it was not until the huge arch was a mass of wreckage that the firemen were able to check the blaze. The roof of metal and glass, collapsed in many places and the brick sidewalks fell at several points.

It was under the shed on the street floor that the mail rooms and express and baggage stations were located. A large force of men with trucks attempted to remove the mail, but they were driven off by fire and smoke before they had completed their job. How much was destroyed or damaged by water could not be learned.

A number of trains were in the shed when the fire started. Some were gotten out but a dozen or more coaches caught fire and were burned before an engine could be attached. Extraordinary efforts were made to keep the fire from spreading to the main building and to nearby structures.

Railroad officials could not say what caused the blaze.

MAY ARISE FROM BULGAR REVOLT

Peasants in Uprising Against New Regime at Sofia

FIGHTING IN MANY CITIES

Old Pro-German Element Restored to Power in Bulgaria

PARIS — (United Press) — A counter-revolution by peasants is reported under way in Bulgaria. Fighting has taken place in which the supporters of Stamboulisky, deposed premier, have been defeated, according to dispatches to Paris newspapers today.

Several thousand peasants took arms against the new government, which was established after a sudden, bloodless coup d'etat Saturday.

And armored trains have been rushed to Plova to suppress them, according to Le Journal's office correspondent.

It is feared here that if counter-revolutionary fighting spreads the entire Balkans may once again become inflamed with war.

Heavy fighting in many cities, and in the streets of Sofia, where many have been killed and wounded, is reported by the Matin's Belgrade correspondent.

PREMIER ESCAPES

Another dispatch says that at Radomir, in Bulgaria, bands headed by Dr. Boffet, president of the chamber of deputies, and friendly to the Stamboulisky regime, have been defeated by troops of the new government.

Premier Stamboulisky, who had headed the Bulgarian peasant government since October, 1919, but fled to an iron hand and even dictating to youthful King Boris, escaped the revolutionaries who seized the reins Saturday, imprisoning practically the entire ministry. Stamboulisky fled to Slavovita, where he gathered a few hundred peasants and prepared for a counter-revolution.

Detachments of new government troops went to Slavovita in an attempt to capture the ex-premier today, but he is reported once more to have escaped with a handful of his followers.

The peasants who supported Stamboulisky still are in the majority in Bulgaria and a counter-revolution on their part is regarded in Paris as certain of success, provided it is well organized.

PRO-GERMANS IN POWER

PARIS — (Associated Press) — Detachments sent to apprehend Stamboulisky, Bulgarian premier deposed by revolutionists, have as yet failed in their mission, says a despatch from London's Sofia correspondent. He adds that Stamboulisky yesterday was defending himself in his villa at Slavovita with the aid of gendarmes and peasants.

The new government is said to be willing that the former premier should leave the country as the ministry seeks above all to avoid bloodshed.

French officials are openly pessimistic over the situation created in Bulgaria and the Balkans by last Saturday morning's coup d'etat. Altogether there is the opinion that Stamboulisky and his exponents are numerically strong enough to bring him back to power, the attitude of Bulgaria's neighbor states is believed to be unfavorable to a revolutionary government and there is some doubt that she will be permitted to solve her problems herself.

The new regime at Sofia, it is apparent here, means the reappearance of the old pro-German element, some of the leaders of which have now come into prominence. These men are anti-Serbian.

RELATIVES OF OLDEST WOMAN IN THE WORLD RESIDE HERE, REPORTED

Relatives of the oldest woman in the world are still living in Lima, according to W. M. Bresler, 1608 E. High-st, but Bresler is unable to give their names or addresses, he stated Monday.

In the city of Posen, in the German province of the same name, the oldest woman in the world is about to enter upon the 124th year of her life, unless death has overtaken her since the receipt of the latest news from that part of Europe.

She is Frau Gretchen Dutkiewitz and she has lived most of her life in Poland. During the Napoleonic invasions she was a young girl and has lived to see the whole world in a period of like conflagration. When Frau Dutkiewitz was born Voltaire had been dead but a few years and Frederick the Great was still living. The Frau has lived in the centuries the eighteenth, nineteenth and twentieth and she has seen the old civilization of Europe die out while the new American and European civilization rose out of the ruins.

Girl Engineers Will Conceal Feminine Charms in Flannel and Khaki

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — (Special) — Ursula Quinn (left) and Esther Knudson (right), students of civil engineering at the University of Minnesota, are going to prove it.

But they aren't going to use hairpins.

They are going right out with transit and rod to lay railroads thru the wilderness—if there is any left.

They are going to conceal their feminine charms in flannel, khaki, high top boots and storm hats.

Civil engineering is a yet untrodden vocation for women, but these girls are not daunted.

The few women who have been graduated from colleges of engineering have been quite content to be designers and draftsmen in office jobs.

"Everyone tells us that women have never built railroad bridges, but we are going to show them that two women can," these girls assert smilingly.

GOVERNOR SMITH NOT CANDIDATE

Declares His Trip West is Merely Vacation

CHICAGO — (United Press) — Governor Al Smith, New York, declares upon arrival here today that he is not a candidate for president of the United States and does not expect to be one.

Smith declared his western trip, during which he will meet Tom Taggart, Indiana, Democratic chieftain in French Lick, is merely a "vacation."

"I do not want anyone to interpret this trip as a political move," he asserted.

Smith was met here by a party of Democratic leaders.

Commenting on the prohibition issue raised by his New York dry law repealer, Smith declared that he finds the country at large still holding to a dry sentiment.

"It is my observation that the country is pretty generally holding to dry sentiment, but there seems to be many objections, both in the middle west and in the eastern cities against operations of the Volstead law," Smith said.

Whether this will develop into anything of great political significance I cannot say.

Commenting on the boom for him to become a presidential candidate—Thomas B. Baird, defaulting cashier of the City Bank, was today sentenced to 20 to 22 years in the penitentiary and Wilhelm H. Boll, assistant cashier, was given a sentence of 15 to 20 years by Judge N. M. Wanner in the York-co court today after they had admitted embezzling more than $1,000,000 from the institution.

The bank was closed in the latter part of April.

U. S. IS DEFIED AS TO DRY LAW

Liquor Served Aboard Foreign Ships at New York

BROUGHT IN UNDER SEAL

American Ruling Disregarded by French and Italians

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Crews of Italian and French ships in New York received their wine rations yesterday and continue to enjoy them despite prohibition regulations to the contrary.

The New York Times said today. The Times specified the seamen of the French liner France and the Italian liners Alberta and Argentina.

"The opinion among the foreign crews," that newspaper said, "seemed to be that the serving of the wine would be overlooked by the American authorities."

So far as could be ascertained, the Times said, "there was no official basis for the foreigners' belief."

MANDATORY LAWS

Under French and Italian law seamen serving ships of such registry must be served daily with two liters of wine. These mandatory laws have been the subject of diplomatic discussions between the affected governments and the United States, as the supreme court has ruled that liquor cannot be brought into American ports for such purposes and the treasury department has issued regulations enforcing that decision.

The first two foreign ships carrying liquor to arrive, put into port yesterday with their liquor stores under seal. They are the White Star liner Celtic and the Cunarder Germanian, both British.

FRENCH REQUEST

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — The first international complication to result from enforcement of the new ship liquor regulations developed today when the French embassy took up with treasury officials the question of releasing from customs bond enough wine to supply the regular ration to the crew of the French liner France in New York harbor.

The embassy is understood to have taken the position that inasmuch as the France sailed from her home port for New York prior to June 1, the effective date of the new regulations, these regulations do not apply to her, as she is permitted to serve wine to her crew under the same practice as obtained before the ship liquor edict of the supreme court was put into effect.

BRITISH POSITION

LONDON — (United Press) — The British government will consider whether it is necessary, in defense of British interests, to resort to measures to counteract the injuries done their ships by enforcement of the American liquor regulations.

Premier Baldwin told the house of commons today.

Ships now in British ports soon to sail for America, are being equipped with liquor in keeping with the provisions established by the United States. The premier, in his statement to commons, however, declared that the government was carefully watching the effects of the American liquor regulations.

PAROLE GRANTED

COLUMBUS — (United Press) — Fred Dempster, of Tuscarawas-co, imprisoned for receiving stolen property, was granted a parole from Ohio penitentiary today, effective June 20.

THOUSANDS MADE HOMELESS

Cities in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas Under Water

MANY FLEEING FOR LIFE

Damage to Property Will Run Into Millions

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — (Associated Press) — With at least five persons reported killed, thousands driven from their homes and property damage estimated in the millions of dollars, many districts in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas are flooded today.

Torrential rains over Kansas for the last three days caused rivers and smaller streams to overflow, destroy crops in the lowlands and inundate residential and business sections of several towns.

The northern half of Oklahoma virtually is inundated with the loss running into millions and still greater damages forecast from the swirl of waters.

SITUATION IN TEXAS

Residents in the lowlands of the Trinity river at Fort Worth, Texas, early this morning were preparing to abandon their homes after heavy rains in West Texas caused the river to rise 27 feet with a continued rise of seven inches per hour.

Arkansas City and Winfield, suffered greatly from the floods. Three thousand persons were declared homeless in Arkansas City in an appeal sent by the mayor for outside aid. He estimated the first damage there at $2,000,000. Both the Arkansas and Walnut rivers are out of their banks there and a large residential section of the city is flooded.

FARMERS FLEEING

One thousand persons were marooned last night in a school-house and other buildings. Winfield reported several hundred families homeless. Early today water from Walnut river was running thru the center of the city.

Reports from Muskogee, Okla., were that farmers dwelling in the lowlands of the Arkansas, Canadian and Illinois river were moving their families to the hills threatened by the rapidly rising flood waters.

Hurd Creek which flows by Pawhuska, Okla., was rising sixty inches an hour, at 5:30 o'clock this morning and was only four feet from the top of the levee which protects the city. Should it reach the levee top the city would be flooded.

Stability of Citizenry Indicated in Report Completed

LIMA RANKS HIGH IN TAX RETURNS

Smaller Ohio cities give a very definite indication of the stability of their citizenry in the number of income tax returns for the calendar year of 1921, with Lima ranking high among municipalities of its class.

This was revealed by the preliminary report made public Monday by David H. Blair, internal revenue commissioner, of income tax statistics compiled under his direction from a nation wide canvass.

Blair explained the compilation does not represent an exact count of the returns for each of the cities but is a "very close approximation of the number filed."

The total of returns for Lima was given as 2,953.

Those of other smaller Ohio cities were given as follows: Elyria, 1,192; Barberton, 3,836; Norwood, 2,210; East Liverpool, 2,470; Portsmouth, 2,587; Zanesville, 2,206; Sandusky, 2,247.

Ohio is shown ranking fourth with New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois showing more returns in that order. The state's share was 367,096 returns, or 6.51 per cent of the country's total, and the total collections were $23,574,084 or 4.67 per cent of the nation's total.

In 1921, according to the figures, 6.37 per cent of Ohio's population paid an income tax on an average income of $2,847.57, showing that the average taxable income in the Buckeye state is larger rather than smaller than the average for the nation.

Weighing Machines Estimate Avoirdupois, Reporter Fears

Weights Vary With the Scale Used, Investigator Discovers

PENNIES WORK WONDERS

Much Entertainment at the Call of a Few Dinky Coppers

(BY FRANKLIN DOAN)

One would scarcely believe that one's weight could possibly gain in a marked manner while walking from one Lima street to another, but such is the case, according to results obtained in trying out penny-in-the-slot machines maintained in or about various places of business in the city.

Armed with a handful of coppers and mentally retaining orders given by the "boss" of the news room, I had a perfectly lovely time, as the society bud would say, in hunting up slot machines and trying them out with pennies, to determine their veracity in a promise to deliver the goods.

In lacking weighing machines, I found that the devices registered discrepancies of two or three pounds in some cases, while in others the difference was confined to mere ounces. My experience was that one gains in weight by walking.

Doctors tell you to eat a lot of bread and milk and diet on certain foods, while others tell you to drink a pint of Winkler's Wonderful Weighter every day and you will grow into a heavy and strong man, but take advice from your humble servant and change a jitney into five pennies, walk five blocks, hitting a weighing machine at every block and see the difference. It's phenomenal.

Some of the scales in Lima are the old-fashioned when it comes to telling your correct weight. For instance, I weighed a hundred and forty-five pounds on West-st. and by the time Central-av loomed near I weighed three pounds more.

Most of the scales about the city impart the pleasing idea that they are truthful. What is meant is still to be conjectured, but probably they mean that they tell the correct weight. Yes, really, about as truthful as the tramp who calls the meat first and says he will go and spade up the backyard.

Another sign would have it that the machines are springless. I slipped a coin in one of them and it failed to work. The proprietor within told me, "scale she no work, da spring is bust."

Another good way to spend your money is to work the slot machines. Pennies, candy and chewing gum are ejected, some apparently as old as Bryan's presidential speeches. They say the first hundred biscuits are the hardest, but gum balls from one slot machine I tried would make good cannon balls.

Beartown seems to be all right when it comes to truthful hard working slot machines, however. All of them work and the proprietors are willing to feed in pennies until they do work if they miss fire on first trial.

HENRY J. ALLEN GREETS NEW SYRIA GOVERNOR

BEYRUTH, Syria — The former governor of an American state greeted the new governor of a French state in Beyruth recently when General Weyand arrived to assume the reins of government of Syria, and was welcomed by former governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas.

Mr. Allen has been here on a tour of investigation for the Near East Relief to study the problems of orphans and refugees. His meeting with the French general gave a distinctly American touch to the ceremony. In the presence of the entire American colony the two governors recalled with sympathy the work of the American Relief.

Just before greeting General Weyand, Mr. Allen watched the entry into the town of a hundred blind children who had been brought by the American Relief thru a perilous journey of 700 miles over mountains and desert stretches from Karpoat, in the interior of Australia.

PROBE OF WALL STREET PLANNED

Farm Block Will Demand Action by Congress

BANKS TO BE INCLUDED

Group Organizing for Fight When Solons Reconvene

(BY LAWRENCE MARTIN)

WASHINGTON—(United Press)—The farm bloc will try to force thru the coming congress a resolution for the most searching congressional investigation of "Wall Street" ever undertaken.

"Wall Street" is the bloc's name for New York's whole financial machinery, including the stock exchanges, brokerage houses, and big ought to be available for credits for litigation which farm blocs will demand will be aimed chiefly at speculative trading, but will include as well the methods of the great banking houses which are chief sources of credit.

Recent sensational failures of New York brokerage concerns and the government's unsuccessful suit against the New York sugar exchange in an effort to stop speculative activities which the justice department blamed for the sugar price increase, have aroused the farm bloc's hostility toward "Wall Street" which many of its members blame for the farmers' troubles.

CONFERENCE PLANNED

Western and southern farm bloc members have been corresponding with a view to organizing the bloc to put thru in the early days of the coming session a sweeping investigation resolution. At a general conference of farm bloc senators and house members to be held in Washington later this summer, definite plans for bringing about their inquiry will be made.

The inquiry is to be directed to these points:

1.—What relation do speculative activities in New York bear to the country's money supply; that is, does speculation tie up money that ought to be available for credits for farmers and business men.

2.—How does speculation affect prices?

3.—Can congress pass laws that will stand the test of the courts, to limit speculation, both as to commodities like sugar, coffee, and similar articles and as to stocks?

4.—What percentage of Wall Street's business is legitimate and necessary and how much of it is purely speculative?

5.—What are the relations and effects of Wall Street's financial agencies and methods upon the affairs of the United States?

These main questions will open a vast field of collateral inquiry so that if the investigation is authorized as the bloc wants it the entire financial structure of the country will be searched.

What the farm blocers expect to accomplish is the "exposure" of speculation; the causes of such failures as have recently occurred.

2.—Disclosure of the responsibility for limitations of credit to farmers, which farm blocers assert either the government or Wall Street, or perhaps both were to blame for.

3.—Remedial legislation; in a word the reformation by the west and the south in concert of the Wall Street system as the blocers call it.

Such an investigation will be stoutly resisted, chiefly on the grounds that it would be of little value. The fight over it is likely to be carried into the 1924 political campaign.

ANNA KATCHKA WINS HIGH HONOR IN CENTRAL CLASS

Miss Anna Katchka, of the 1923 graduating class of Central High school, receives honors for the highest average for the four years of high school work, it was announced Monday. Her average for the course was 1.28.

Herbert Rable is but one point behind, having an average of 1.29. Eleanor Trout was next in line with 1.33. The work of these students represents the best in the school and they are to be commended upon their ability. Principal Offenbauer states:

The first ten in the list of seniors and their averages are as follows: Anna Katchka, 1.28; Herbert Rable, 1.29; Eleanor Trout, 1.33; Lowell Byerly, 1.34; Luther Spayde, 1.43; Dale Bages, 1.52; Alice Leidner, 1.64; Ethel Hammell, 1.70; J. Taylor, 1.76; Catherine Moo, 1.77.

WILLIAMS "PROTECTS" PROPERTY; IS ARRESTED

Geno Williams, 35, colored, of 721 N. Jackson-st., declared no one was going to abuse him and get away with it.

So he ran a bluff, he told Judge Jackson Monday morning, following his arrest on a charge of intoxication.

He was found, sitting on his back porch, a loaded shot gun in his hand, a razor in his pocket and plenty of shells handy.

He claimed that some of the neighbors abused him and damaged his property Sunday and he warned them not to try it again.

According to Captain George Strick, who answered the call to arrest Geno, the bluff worked pretty well, for several persons were standing about weeping and yelling for help.

Geno was remanded to jail for a few hours to "sober up."

TRAFIC CASES

Three traffic law violators were fined in criminal court Monday. Robert Emery, 519 Flanders-av., charged with driving a motorcycle without lights, and John Flynn, E Second-st., for not having a taillight lighted, were each fined $2. J. Cimillio, 123 S. Atlantic-st., was fined $5 for double parking in the Public Square.

OLD POSTERS EXCITE TEDDY

Teddy, the weather mascot, is pictured this day in the attitude of gazing wistfully upon a bill board showing posters for a circus. It isn't intended to represent a state of fact, but more in the form of a desire on the part of the little fellows who features this department daily.

The rain situation is appropriate, but the circus part is a vision only—or rather a memory, induced by the one circus Lima has had this year. Ted is anxious for another, hence the wistful inspection of the old posters.

Probably show-ers tonight and Tuesday, no change in temperature. Indications for showers existed all thru the day.

In fact, there was a slight sprinkle early Monday, following a heavy shower before midnight Sunday. More rainfall later in the day is not unexpected. In fact, it is confidently anticipated.

"Was a fine day Sunday for those who enjoy the great outdoors. Motor parties, golfing, baseball, strolls atfield and into the woods—all these were afforded thousands of citizens. June is measuring up quite satisfactorily and little faults are found even by pessimists.

PAYMENT OF TAX IS LAGGING

Only Eight Days Remain, Treasurer Warns

Only eight more days remain for paying taxes at the Allen-county treasurer's office, Harry E. Botkins warned property owners Monday.

Taxes not paid in on or before that date can be collected with a 15 per cent penalty added. Tax money is coming in slowly, Botkins said. Less than 15 per cent of the $1,000,000 total due this month has been paid up to date. Collections total less than $10,000 daily, he declares.

At least $25,000 a day should be coming in, according to Botkins. Collections so far are largely from small property owners. Large corporations and rich landholders usually pay as late as possible, in order to have use of the money up to the last minute.

About one-half of the delinquent personal tax has been turned in. The amount is less than one-half of the $120,000 outstanding. A large share of the balance either cannot be collected, or must be brought in by levying on property, the treasurer says.

HOLD MINE STOCK

Cincinnati Men Win Court Decision—Possession Legal

CINCINNATI — (Associated Press.)—Possession of wine, carrying an excess of alcohol derived from natural fermentation, and not intended for sale is not unlawful, Judge George F. Eyrich ruled in municipal court today.

The decision was in the case of two men charged with illegal possession after police had found fifteen barrels of wine containing from six to eight per cent alcohol in the cellar of their homes. The men claimed ownership of the wine, which, they said, was used exclusively in the home, and which thru the natural process of fermentation had developed alcoholic content in excess of one half of one per cent.

THREE ARE INJURED IN RAID OF WEDDING PARTY

DAYTON — Three members of the Dayton Hider squad were injured in a general riot which followed a raid on a wedding feast at the First Reformed Hungarian People's Society Hall.

The bridegroom and his bride, Michael Olah and Elizabeth Rubasz, fled from the hall. Police seized a five-gallon jug of alleged moonshine and one prisoner. Both were removed to a waiting automobile, under guard of one man, and then the fight began. The prisoner was freed and the liquor taken from the officer.

In the meantime, a free-for-all started in the hall.

Six automobile loads of police were dispatched to the scene, and it is said there will be an aftermath in police court during the week.

The officers were hurt when hit by bottles and chairs.

EXTENSION OF TIME GIVEN FOR FILING OF INVENTORY

An application filed in probate court Monday by Frank L. Maire, 572 W. Market-st., executor of the estate of the late E. J. Maire, requests that the filing of the inventory and appraisal of the estate be delayed.

The inventory, under the law, must be filed in probate court within a limited time. The time is almost up. Maire represents in his petition that ill-health has prevented his undertaking the work of appraising the property.

The court granted permission to extend the time. Documents filed in connection with probating the will of E. J. Maire, estimated the estate at more than a quarter million dollars.

BOY SCOUTS PLAN SUMMER CAMP

Lima Troops Receive Application for Enrollments

CAMP LOCATED AT CELINA

Luncheon Club Men Will Visit Boys During Summer

Applications for enrollment in the Boy Scout's summer camp near Celina, went to members of local troops Monday. The registration blanks were a part of 16 camp number of the "Lima Scout Trail," the weekly bulletin.

The Lima camp, which opens July 5 and is open until July 25, has accommodation for 50 boys. C. L. Conrad, executive, said Monday. Included in the permanent equipment is a mess hall and kitchen. All mess equipment is at the camp. Tennis will be taken by the boys and each tent will be occupied by eight scouts.

Troops from neighboring towns will be invited to join the Lima Scouts in camp, Conrad stated. Invitations will go to scouts from the following towns: Covington, Van Wert, Delphos, Spencerville, Wapakoneta, Ottawa, New Bremen, Celina, Bluffton and St. Marys.

CAMP PROGRAM PLANNED

A schedule of camp activities has been outlined and action is promised for every day in camp, Conrad said. Swimming, fishing and athletic contests will occupy the scouts during the day and camp fire programs have been arranged to include vaudeville stunts, community song, story telling, circus and carnival night and many other entertainment features.

Award will be made to the tent making the best permanent piece of camp furniture on the third day. Sunday, Ju 8, has been designated Lion's day and all Lions are invited to attend the camp with families and lunches. Contests between the Lions and scouts will be arranged for the afternoon.

Members of the Rotary and Elks' club will be guests of the Scouts Sunday, July 15, and Kiwanis will visit the camp on the next Sunday, July 22. On each of these days a program similar to that arranged for the Lions will be carried out.

ENFORCE HEALTH LAWS

Registrations for camp must be in the hands of the scout executive by June 20, Conrad stated Monday. Requirements of the national scout council are that each boy must have a health inspection at least once each week by a licensed physician to insure absence of communicable disease.

SCOUT EXECUTIVE IS ROTARY SPEAKER MONDAY

C. L. Conrad, local boy scout executive, was the principal speaker at the Rotary club meeting held Monday at Hotel Norval. It had been planned for Hugh P. Baker of New York to speak, but urgent business compelled him to return home. Conrad told the Rotarians of the work done by the scout organization. E. A. Havers, also of the New York club, was present and gave a short talk.

President Barnhardt appointed an entertainment committee composed of L. Earl Ludwig, chairman; J. R. Culbert and Martin Nellis. An appropriation of $50 was voted to be donated to the swimming safety campaign.

FEDERAL AUTHORITIES INVESTIGATE CITIZENS WHO ADMINISTER OATHS

An investigation of oath administering officials is being conducted by federal authorities, according to information received Monday by John C. Marsh, deputy collector of revenue.

A communication from Charles H. Nauts, collector of internal revenue, 10th district of Ohio, states that reports have come to the department of the improper performance of duty by persons authorized to administer oaths.

Prosecution and dismissal will follow where the offender is a government employee, it was stated.

ACTION ON CITY HALL TONIGHT

Commission Will Decide Whether to Sell or Not

Contemplated action by the city commission on bids for the purchase of the city hall is expected to attract a large number of citizens more or less interested in the matter to the meeting Monday night. Mayor Harold Cunningham said Monday the disposal of the bids will be the most important matter to come before the city commission and no inkling as to what the action will be was given by city officials.

City commissioners will meet with City Manager C. A. Bingham in executive session to discuss the matter before the public session is convened, it is announced.

Mayor Cunningham said no action will be taken Monday regarding the proposed zoning law and added that it will be several months before the city planning commission, which has the work of preparing the zoning measure in charge, will be able to present the ordinance.

Action on a city ordinance requiring certain firms, corporations and occupations to be licensed, will be taken Monday.

ARMY FORMED BY DEMOCRATS

Will be Ground Work of Presidential Campaign

300 CLUBS NOW UNDER WAY

Every City to be Organized, Hull Writes Durbin

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — A "victory army" of Democrats in Ohio will be the ground work of the 1924 presidential campaign of the minority party in President Harding's home state, according to word received today by State Chairman W. W. Durbin from Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic national committee.

Hull said that 300 "national Democratic Victory clubs" are in course of organization now in 160 Ohio cities and towns and it is planned to enroll 6,000 members. He said he expects to have a "victory club" in every town of more than 2,000.

According to his letter the idea has been endorsed by Governor Donahoe, and other state leaders.

HULL'S LETTER

His letter to Durbin said in part: "The Democratic national committee believes it has found the way absolutely to insure a Democratic victory in 1924. This way is thru the work that 100,000 energetic Democrats, enrolled as members of our victory army, will do between now and election day."

Under a national organization plan, I am appointing a direct representative of the national committee in every one of the 5,000 larger towns or counties in the United States, and am asking him to form a victory club of at least twenty members in order to give our enrolled army of 100,000 Democrats, under arms and ready for any party service at any minute."

Among the "victory club" presidents appointed for Ohio, so far are Congressman Charles A. Mooney for Cleveland, Len C. Koplin, Akron; Mrs. Lieator Bailey Johnson, Zanesville; William T. Mason, Hamilton; Miss Minnie McCray, Mansfield; Joseph Heffernan, Youngstown; J. T. Powers, Springfield; John T. Nelson, Steubenville; Mrs. J. W. Peabody, Oberlin; Louis Horwitz, Tiffin; Mrs. Anna Hughes Marks, Hillsboro.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsoid coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is inexpensive and beats anything else at its price. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsoid is all that is required. Simply rub the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is fresh, soft looking, bright, shiny, wavy, and easy to manage. Besides it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure and ask for "Mulsoid" coconut oil shampoo—Adv.

LABOR WANTED BY FARM, FACTORIES

Demands of Industries Adding to Problems of Agriculture

Competition with big industries of the state for labor is adding to the farm help problem, according to information from the U. S. department of agriculture, and present indications point toward a definite curtailment of farm crops, County Agent H. J. Ridge stated Monday.

Prices are showing little change, the report states, such increases as are evidenced being on products that have already left the farm. The profits thus accruing go to the middlemen rather than to the producer. That the Ohio farmer is still one of the country's most abused citizens is the statement of the Federal Department, making the report. The index of purchasing power of Ohio

A survey by federal investigators of the whole milk situation discloses the fact that city residents are increasing their milk consumption, while farmers are decreasing use of milk.

The department estimates that in 1922 nearly 105 billion pounds of whole milk was used in the production of butter, cheese, ice cream and various other milk products. Of this total 47 billion pounds were consumed as milk.

The number of cows on farms of the country January 1, 1923, was 24,429,000. A year previous on the same date the number amounted to 24,962,000. Milk cows in the state of Ohio number at this time, 1,075,000 with an average of 3,945 pounds.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP

WARREN G. HARDING, president of the United States, is about to start across the continent, on a trip to Alaska. He will deliver a number of speeches en route, in which he is expected to define his position concerning the necessity of America's participation in an International Court of Justice, at the same time repudiating and holding aloof from the League of Nations.

Since the court is an indispensable part of the league, how the nation's chief executive can perform such a delicate surgical operation on the international Siamese twins, saving the life of one and permitting the other to die, is beyond comprehension. Barking at his heels will be a well organized group of highups of his own party—United States senators—refuting his statements and turning up to the light of day what they term his inconsistencies.

The president's court declaration has caused an uproar in his own party of a character that would not have been believed possible in 1920, when party solidarity, aided by fear in the hearts of millions of the league and its court, gave the Republican party one of the greatest victories in history.

America is in the League of Nations today. Not by official governmental edict, with the sanction and seal of congress and the secretary of state. It did not enter thru the back door or side door or even by the way of a cellar window—but up the golden stairs.

Fearing that the collapse of Austria would precipitate another dangerous crisis in Europe, which menaces the world with another appalling war, J. P. Morgan and associated American bankers have united with the league powers in the task of saving Austria. They are using American dollars to do it. Morgan says it is the first step in the rehabilitation of Central Europe. He expects to chip in $25,000,000 of a $130,000,000 loan to the stricken nation.

If we can work with the league to save Austria, why not work with it to save the world? There isn't a sound in protest even from Nahant, Massachusetts, where resides the prince of opponents of the league—United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge. He is not asking for even a reservation.

Joining the league to make money appeals differently than getting into it to save the world from war—to some people.

SOMETHING ROTTEN!

APPARENTLY there is no longer doubt but that charges made in the campaign in Ohio in 1922 possessed foundation in fact that many persons were seeking to keep submerged.

When in 1921 half a million dollars of state property was destroyed by fire at the fair grounds at Columbus, with hundreds of thousands of dollars of materials donated to the Buckeye state by the federal government from the residue of war, a mere hint that the conflagration was of incendiary origin to cover up evidence of theft and scandal, caused many hands to be held up in horror and there was rage in resentment of the imputation.

The facts in the premises are coming out now. Report of a special examiner has been filed. It reeks with rotteness and those who had to do with the conduct of affairs of the state highway department at that time were either wilfully crooked or criminally careless, the report declares. It is charged that automobiles, auto supplies and accessories, motor trucks and equipment of all kinds was exploited by someone for personal gain, at the expense of the people of Ohio.

In the face of such revelations as have been made, there appears to be very little doubt but that the hand of the incendiary played a part in the fire at the state fair grounds. The examiner's report affords what may be sufficient proof that employees of the state not only accepted state owned property as gifts, but that they also received gifts of money from junkers who purchased valuable property for little or nothing and concerning the disposition of which no official report was made.

In the face of such revelations as have been made, there should be no interference with Governor A. V. Donahey in his determination to get at the bottom of what appears to be one of the worst scandals that ever afflicted the state. The chief executive should have the support of every citizen who believes in common honesty and the punishment of the wilfully unfaithful.

A fool laughs when his wife gets mad, while a wise man runs out and takes in a movie.

The middle of this month is when we borrow enough money to pay our income tax again.

towns. Seeing there no one of importance, not even Jimmie.

By tram car, on a ham sandwich. To Lima and between trolley boys, a mailed milk. Home, and to the First National Bank. Beating an overdraft by more than an hour. All the morning, casting up accounts against the greatest tenth of the month. So duly cast, and to post, very brave. There to find Monsieur Stirling's notice about the twentieth. The only hundred percent guy I envy, is the permanent loafer. He has the greatest graft in the world, and gets away with it.

In the late morning, to the Morgue club, Howbeit lacking a quorum, adjourned to seven of the clock. The debate is on the relevancy of the motorometer to the rear axle housing. There are but three things I know about automobiles—the first installment, the license and the trade-in for a new one.

Spoke in fine friendliness to Frank Colucci, the banker. Then trimmed by a descendant of Alexander, the Grete; and my boots maneuvered by a descendant of Christo Columbus. Who even in that day, had the wisdom to land in Cuba. At noon the score on East High-st stood: Buicks, 2; Overlands, 5; Oaklands, 3; Studebakers, 2; Chevrolets, 1; Dorts, 1; Reos, 1; Dodges, 3; Cadillacs, 3; Fords, 8.

Lunched on a cold rib for the joint, and white grapes with sugar cookies for the sweet. In the afternoon, to the Club. Seeing among the notables, Danny Jones, the motorist, and Dwight Goodyear, the financier.

In the evening, dined in state. The entire malsonette being now most thoroughly housecleaned. Including the closets and back hall-dresser drawers. So, we had the roast beef for an entire and stayed, with tomato-dipped gravy, new potatoes in paprika, headlettuce with Russian dressing, and new peas. The sweet was a Ritz pudding, with a soft heart, very alluring.

To the primary, bowing to Joe Cousins and Glen Webb. Strolled anon with Roy Dunn, the mercantile prince; then backfired to the Morgue club, now in session. And Al Stolzenbach in the chair. It was resolved to pay all bills within sixty days, or declare them outlawed. So, but a new cravat, which I can ill afford, and mailed my rich sister in St. Mary's a post card of Christ's Episcopal church. As it was before the reformation with the door at tother end. Thence home, and with my wife, poor watch, going over kitchen and house cleaning hills until late in the night. And decided to approve the Morgue club's resolution. So, late to bed.

JUST FOLKS

By Edgar A. Guest

The skies are hanging low today, And countless fountains in the street Sputter and splash about our feet; The city wears a dress of gray, And every sad-faced passer-by Seems almost audibly to sigh.

The gusty wind is biting cold, Buildings seem mournful when they're wet; The tender grain needs rain, and yet

The joy of rain is seldom told, But like the bitter grief which numbs We're never ready when it comes.

We know some day the rain must fall, We know some day that we must weep

RAIN

And lose the precious joy we'd keep; This is the common fate of all, Yet always to our God we pray, Let us not bear the blow today.

We are not ready now for tears, A few days longer let us smile, Spare us for just a little while; We shall be braver down the years Lord, let these dark clouds pass away, Let us not suffer grief today.

So standing at life's window pane, Let us remember and be brave, Life is not finished at the grave, Our tears must fall as falls the rain;

Let us, when sorrow comes our way, Be ready with our faith today. (Copyright, 1923)

WHAT TO MIX WITH BABY'S FOOD

Another typical history of wrong baby described was the use of an excessive proportion of carbohydrate (starch or sugar) instead of increasing the strength of the fresh milk. The baby ought to digest undiluted and unmodified whole fresh milk by the time he is ten months old. It is wrong in principle and harmful to the baby's health and to help for a while, but not long.

Then I tried —'s and other brands, all with the same result. I began giving her a very little cereal and a taste of vegetables when she was nine months old. . . . had to resort to injections regularly every third day. . . .

I cite this as a bad example. I hope readers will not assume that I attempt to advise about individual feeding problems. If you have such a problem present it to your physician. It can't be intelligently dealt with by correspondence.

Now and then a baby is constipated even tho nursed at the breast. This is usually due to underfeeding; if the quantity and quality of the milk cannot be improved by better hygiene it is generally necessary to supplement breast feeding with one or two bottle feedings daily.

A great many infants artificially fed suffer with constipation because the formula is too weak. In the instance I have quoted, it should be noticed, the mother waited till the baby was nine months old before she added cereals and vegetables to the baby's diet. For the third month in most cases, it is advisable to begin using barley water or oatmeal water in place of plain water, and modifying fresh milk for the baby. Thin cereal gruels may be given with advantage to most bottle babies when they are six months old; a teaspoonful or two of any fresh vegetable pulp (the vegetable well cooked and run thru a coarse sieve) should be given every day or two from the fifth month. Some beef or mutton or chicken broth should be given to a baby two or three times a week from the seventh or eighth month, earlier in some cases. Ordinary meat gravy and baked or mashed potato may be given with advantage to any normal baby nine months of age.

Another fault in the feeding of the

Gas Nearly Smothered Her, Says Mrs. Zimmer

Declares Even Lightest Food Caused Intense Suffering Until Tanlac Ended Indigestion—Child Also Restored.

"Tanlac has put me in such splendid health I don't believe any case of stomach trouble can prevail against it," declares Mrs. Mary Zimmer, 553 Parkdale Drive, Akron, Ohio.

"Even the lightest kind of food would lie like lead in my stomach and cause terrible distress. I would almost suffocate from gas, which brought on nervousness, and my liver was disordered also.

"But the Tanlac treatment overcame all my troubles and restored my digestion and health perfectly. It's just grand."

Mrs. Lilah Burnside, Mrs. Zimmer's daughter, said: "It is also astonishing what Tanlac has done for my little son, aged six. He had gone through whooping cough, tonsillitis and bronchitis, and was so weak and thin we were greatly worried about him. "But now he eats and healthier than ever before. He has gained much weight and is just full of life and play. Tanlac certainly deserves our highest praise."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37-million bottles sold.—Adv.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: I am 19 years old. A boy friend has written to me twice and I have answered both his letters. I have not received an answer to the last letter I wrote him. It has been more than two weeks and before he answered my letter I would like to know if he is still writing to me or if he has stopped.

I wouldn't write again, if I were you, until the young man writes. Two weeks is not very long. It may be that he has not much time to give to social correspondence. Or, it may be that he is not so much interested in writing to you as you are in writing to him. Another explanation may be that he feels that it would be wise to space his letters at wider intervals so that you will not have any reason to believe that he has more than a casual interest in you.

Dear Miss Smart: I am a widow and mind my own affairs and am liked by all the neighbors but one. She stands and insults me every chance she gets. She has no reason for this, as I have never done anything to her that I should receive such treatment. What can I do about this?

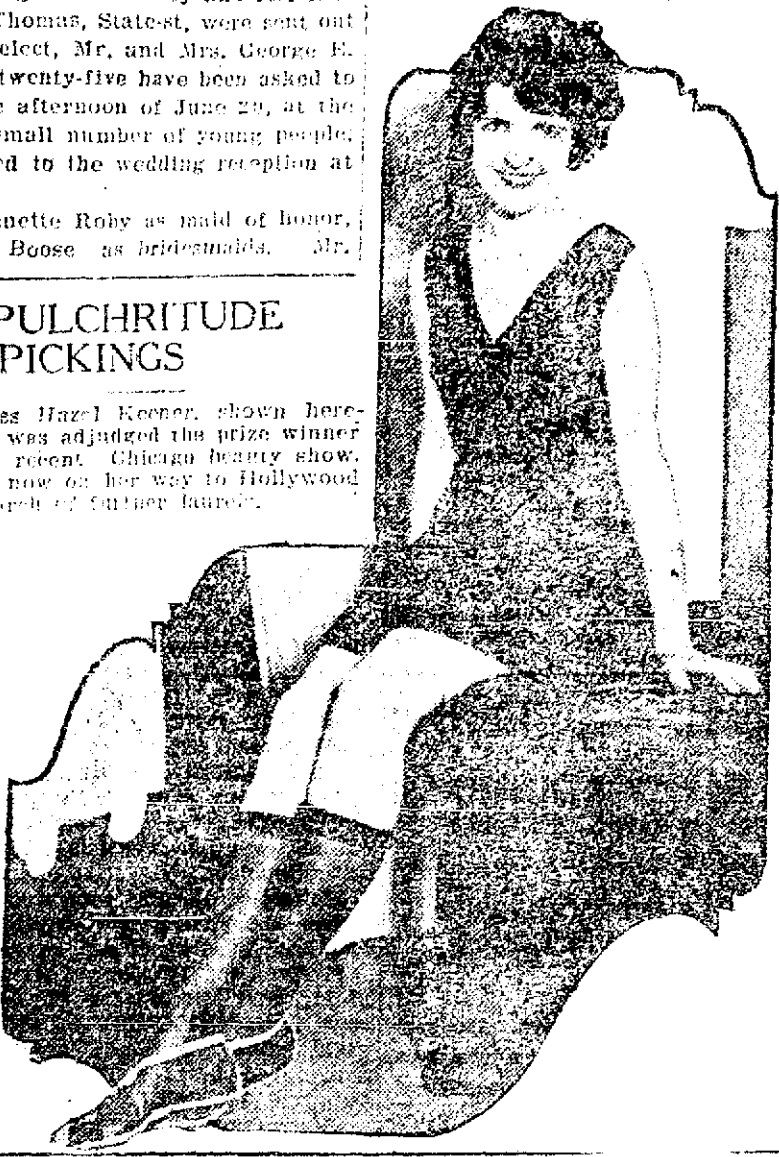

Generally speaking, the best plan in a case of this kind is to ignore the matter. For you to take any action against this woman would be to make it more conspicuous. If you keep your conduct at all times above criticism she will have no weapons against you. Since your other neighbors like you, they will not be likely to credit any malicious remarks this woman may make against you.

Dear Miss Smart: I have just had my hair bobbed and it looks a little. It is very nice in the morning but after I take the curlers out, by noon there is not a sign of a curl. I have tried anything I can put on to keep it in curl.

You might try using bandolins. It is a curling fluid which you use at almost any drug store.

DANCER GETS LEADING ROLE WITH DOUG

(BY GERTRUDE GILHAM) HENRY FAIRBANKS is a snap-shot of Julianne Johnston, competitive dancer, who has been selected by Douglas Fairbanks as leading woman for his next production, "The Thief of Bagdad".

Gray eyes, brown bobbed hair, and five feet six of slender grace. Born in Indianapolis, lived for a time in Pittsburg, attended Holy wood School for Girls, traveled extensively and after death of father settled with her mother in the film capital.

Entry into films preceded by considerable fame as a dancer for two seasons with Ruth St. Denis in concert, a season in vaudeville and five months in New York. Appeared two seasons in the Hollywood Community Theatre, which produces plays for discriminating audiences.

She was the dancer girl in "Man-Clasher" and in "The Young It-Itah," other film appearances including "Better Times," "Seeing It Thru," and "Sitting on the World." She was dexterous in handling costumes, learned from dancing together with Grace, and a distinguished carriage, which impressed Fairbanks while Miss Johnston was being tested for "The Thief of Bagdad."

Her parental ancestry included three generations of actors, while her maternal grandfather was the author of "Barry Lyndon," which she hopes the school children of the country will not hold against her.

Miss Johnston, who is also a talented costume designer and writer of verse, was signed up by Fairbanks at the expiration of Evelyn Brent's contract. Miss Brent, it is understood, was not just the type required for Doug's forthcoming novelty spectacle.

June Mathis, foremost of scenario writers, claims to have had spiritual aid from famous deceased authors in adapting their writings to the screen.

Miss Mathis, protagonist of spiritualism, made the statement most recently to Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, distinguished disciple of occultism, during his recent visit to Goldwyn Studios, where she is scenario editor.

She said she was sure that General Lew Wallace had aided her to adapt "Ben Hur"; that she had received psychic inspiration from F. Marion Crawford in transposing "The Paken of the King"; that Frank Norris had communicated with her regarding "McTeague" being filmed under the screen title "Greed."

This is not a press agent tale, and the information is here conveyed with no light intent. All who know Fairbanks while Miss Johnston was playwright are aware of her fixed conviction in spirit communication.

Her confidence to Sir Arthur was merely Miss Mathis' desire, from her own viewpoint, of giving credit to those whose credit is due—something not to common among Hollywood's famous.

Sigma Offers Excellent Comedy Bill this Week

A COPIOUS supply of laughs is provided at the Sigma theatre where an excellent comedy bill consisting of two six-act comedies, "A Front Page Story" and an adaptation of Mary Roberts Rinchart's short story, "Affinities," is being presented this week.

The atmosphere of a lighter newspaper war in a small city is perfectly portrayed in the former and brings home to the average person the strong thread of romance, humor and near tragedy that runs thru our everyday lives. It is real American life that surges and bubbles thru "A Front Page Story."

The story revolves around two characters of a small city, the editor and the mayor, and details the feud that has existed between them two products of small town life. The mayor, a man of business vision; the editor, a man of poetic vision. Into this feud steps a delightful young American who rightly appreciates the value of each man's contribution to community life. He plays upon the small town conscience and ends the feud of years by compelling the two forces to realize that it is by co-operation that progress advances.

"Please Get Married" is Attraction at Faurot. The second of a series of special June offerings was presented for the third time Sunday at the Faurot Opera House when the Hawkins-Ball Stock Co. presented "Please Get Married."

Next week will bring "What's Your Husband Doing?" which is the last of the special plays.

"Please Get Married" has to do with a clergyman who is afflicted with amnesia and while in this mental state becomes a partner of a burglar, recently released from prison. They burglarize the home of the Ashleys and while in the act meet Muriel Ashley and Fred Wal-

Early one of the best stories in lighter vein that Mary Roberts Rinchart has written, "Affinities," in screen form, co-starring Colleen Moore and John Bowers, is a veritable riot of laughter.

Fanny and Dey Hington are un- happily married members of the most exclusive set in their community. They live together in harmonious boredom, until Fred Jackson, who is the son of man that "understands women," proposes a way to brighten up Fanny's life.

The idea is to have an "affinity" party and Fred elects himself as Fanny's affinity. Then the plot thickens, and complications develop so swiftly that the "affinities" are caught in the most unexplainable situation they have ever experienced.

There is romance, a bit of near passion and a wealth of wholesome humor in this sparkling comedy drama, making a most refreshing picture.

Incidents when the parents discover and following are many humorous incidents that the couple and thinking they have been married by a pseudo-minister, start a wild chase for them.

Miss Florence Lewin and Alex Macintosh are selected in the leading roles while the remainder of the company is seen to good advantage.

When Women Begin To Lose Youth and Charm

Dr. Frederic S. Kelle, the New York author of medical text books, whose opinions are greatly valued, writes: "When the nerve tissue begins to lose its vitality, woman begins to lose her attractiveness. Her vitality, pleasant disposition fades away—she becomes irritable, moody and depressed. It would be a godsend if more men and women were aware of the efficacy of Bitro-Phosphate."

Thousands of thin, run-down people whose nervous energy is nearly exhausted are turning to Bitro-Phosphate as dispensed by all good druggists because it revitalizes the nerves and brings back energy and mental keenness.—M.V.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: I AM a girl 20 years old. A boy friend has written to me twice and I have answered both his letters. I have not received an answer to the last letter I wrote him. It has been more than two weeks and before he answered my second letter I thought for me to write again before receiving an answer to my last letter.

WAITING

I wouldn't write again, if I were you, until the young man writes. Two weeks is not very long. It may be that he has not much time to give to social correspondence. Or, it may be that he is not so much interested in writing to you as you are in writing to him. Another explanation may be that he feels that it would be wise to space his letters at wider intervals so that you will not have any reason to believe that he has more than a casual interest in you.

Dear Miss Smart: I am a widow and mind my own affairs and am liked by all the neighbors but one. She slanders and insults me every chance she gets. She has no reason for this as I have never done anything to her that I should receive such treatment. What can I do about this?

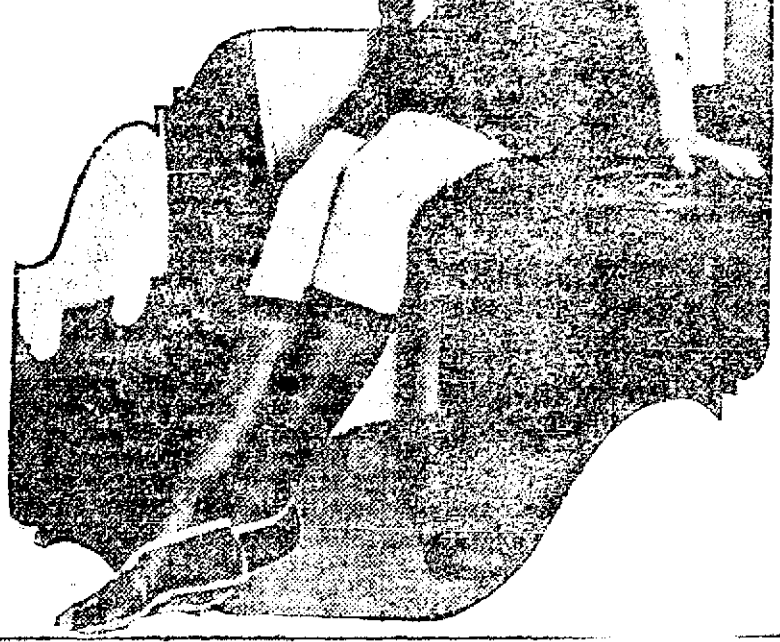

Generally speaking, the best plan in a case of this kind is to ignore the matter. For you to take any action against this woman would be to make it more conspicuous. If you keep your conduct at all times above criticism she will have no weapons against you. Since your other neighbors like you, they will not be likely to credit any malicious remarks this woman may make against you.

Dear Miss Smart: I have just had a bad cold and it is a night. It is very hot in the morning just after I take the covers off, but by noon there is not a sign of it. It is the only thing I can put on it to keep it in.

You might try using bandoline. It is a curling fluid which you can use almost any drug store.

DANCER GETS LEADING ROLE WITH DOUG

(BY GERTRUDE GILLHAM)
HIGH is a snapshot of Julianne Johnston, comparatively new-comer to the screen, who has been selected by Douglas Fairbanks as leading woman for his next production, "The Thief of Bagdad".

Gray eyes, brown bobbed hair, and five feet six of slender grace. Born in Indianapolis, lived for a time in Hillsburg, attended Hillswood School for Girls, traveled extensively and after death of father settled with her mother in the film capital.

Entry into films preceded by considerable fame as a dancer for two seasons with Ruth St. Denis in concert, a season in vaudeville and five months in New York. Appeared two seasons in the Hollywood Community Theatre, which produced plays for discriminating audiences.

She was the dancing girl in "Man-slaughter" and in "The Young Rascal," other film appearances including "Better Times," "Seeing It Thru," and "Sitting on the World." She was dexterly in handling costumes, journeyed from dancing together with grace and a distinguished carriage, which impressed Fairbanks while Miss Johnston was being tested for "The Thief of Bagdad."

Her parental ancestry included three generations of attorneys, while her maternal grandfather was the author of Burt's grammar, which she hopes the school children of the country will not hold against her.

Miss Johnston, who is also a talented costume designer and writer of verse, was signed up by Fairbanks at the expiration of Evelyn Brent's contract. Miss Brent, it is understood, was not just the type required for Doug's forthcoming novelty spectacle.

June Mathis, foremost of scenario writers, claims to have had spiritual aid from famous deceased authors in adapting her writings to the screen.

Miss Mathis, protagonist of spiritualism, made the statement most recently to Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, distinguished disciple of occultism, during his recent visit to Goldwyn Studios, where she is scenario editor.

She said she was sure that General Low Wallace had aided her to adapt "Den Hur"; that she had received psychic inspiration from E. Marion Crawford in transposing "The Palace of the Kings"; that Frank Norris had communicated with her regarding "McTeague," being filmed under the screen title "Greed."

This is not a press agent tale, and the information is here conveyed with no light intent. All who know the brilliant, candid actress-author-playwright are aware of her fixed conviction in spirit communication. Her confidence to Sir Arthur was merely Miss Mathis' desire, from her own viewpoint, of giving credit where credit is due—something not so common among Hollywood's famous.

Sigma Offers Excellent Comedy Bill this Week

A COPIOUS supply of laughs is provided at the Sigma theatre where an excellent comedy bill consisting of two six-reel comedies, "A Front Page Story" and an adaptation of Mary Roberts Rinehart's short story, "Affinities," is being presented this week.

The atmosphere of a bitter newspaper war in a small city is perfectly portrayed in the former and brings home to the average person the strong thread of romance, humor and near tragedy that runs thru our everyday lives. It is real American life that surges and bubbles thru "A Front Page Story."

The story revolves around two characters of a small city, the editor and the mayor, and details the feud that has existed between them, two products of small town life; the mayor, a man of business vision; the editor, a man of poetic vision. Into this feud steps a delightful young American who rightly appreciates the value of each man's contribution to community life. He plays upon the small town conscience and ends the feud of years by compelling the two forces to realize that it is by co-operation that progress advances.

"Please Get Married" Is Attraction at Faurst

THE second of a series of special June offerings was presented for the third time Sunday at the Faurst Opera House when the Hawkins-Ball Stock Co. presented "Please Get Married." Next week will bring "What's Your Husband Doing?" which is the last of the special plays.

"Please Get Married" has to do with a clergyman who is afflicted with amnesia and while in this mental state becomes a partner of a burglar, recently released from prison. They burglarize the home of the Ashley's and while in the act meet Marjorie Ashley and Fred Wallace, who are very much in love but have been refused consent to a marriage. When they learn that one of the thieves is a minister, they decide to get married and run away.

They start on their honeymoon incidents when the parents discover and following are many humorous incidents of the couple and blushing they have been married by a pseudo-minister, start a wild chase for them.

Miss Florence Lewin and Alex Macintosh are splendid in the leading parts while the remainder of the company is seen to good advantage.

Essentially one of the best stories in lighter vein that Mary Roberts Rinehart has written, "Affinities," in screen form, co-starring Colleen Moore and John Bowers, is a veritable riot of laughter.

Fanny and Day Hillington are happily married members of the most exclusive set in their community. They live together in harmless boredom, until Fred Jackson, who is the sort of man that "understands women," proposes a way to brighten up Fanny's life.

The idea is to have an "affinity" party and Fred elects himself as Fanny's affinity. Then the plot thickens, and complications develop so swiftly that the "affinities" are caught in the most unexplainable situation they have ever experienced.

There is romance, a bit of near pathos and a wealth of wholesome humor in this sparkling comedy drama, making a most refreshing picture.

Thousands of thin, run-down people whose nervous energy is nearly exhausted are turning to Bitro-Phosphate as dispenser by all good druggists because it revitalizes the nerves and brings back energy and mental freshness.—Adv.

Locals Hit
Bruck
Hard

BY FRANKLYN DOAN

Speaking of teams that ring up dozens of consecutive victories and then run wild with the crown on their head, Lima happens to have a team that knocks them all for a row. At least the fast Urbana team found that out when they left the local ballpark on the short end of a 10 to 0 count.

Urbana, who the afore mentioned team mainly because they had played an even three dozen games and had not tasted the bitter pill of defeat even once. But the Lima ball tossers showed the old crowd in the first two or three innings and that Berry, local hurling ace, worked like wildfire with the score running in his direction.

For the first time this year the forces of the Urbana pitching star, had a rather hard day of it. By five time that he floated the only pitched ball was sent to some part of the ballfield and many times resulted in safe bingles. The local boys managed to connect for 14 hits.

COMEBACK FEATURES

The big feature of the game was the remarkable comeback of "Flash" Castillo. All of the local baseball writers had said that the rangy Lima center fielder was on the back ward pass but in Sunday's game he demonstrated that he has the old eye. At least a homer, a double and a single out of five trips to the plate would make it look that way.

For the first time this year the grounds were filled with rooting fans. And when they left they were satisfied that the local crew doesn't play set-ups but plays the best teams available, and treats them all in like manner.

The Lima clan started out right when they lambasted the onion for a double and a single. Coupled with a sacrifice hit and an error these hits meant as many runs for the local crew in the initial frame. In the third inning they scored again, this time on Costy's homer.

One of those wild and wooly stanzas was blown up by the breeze when the Lima team came to bat in the last of the fourth. Bruck figuratively speaking had nothing but a glove and a prayer. He floated the pill toward the plate and some Lima player invariably lifted it to the outfield or gained lifted with a scorching grounder. In this stanza Wise, Gallacher, Seals, Berry and Theibert crossed the platter, bringing the total to eight.

SOME THRILLS — From then on until the eighth Lima failed to score. Each team played good ball altho the bean boys stood out at all times. The contest was replete with thrills of the big league as well as the bush league variety.

Theibert pulled the prize when he ran to the bleachers in the third and holding on to the bleacher fence made a beautiful catch of Fanning's high foul. Fanning evened it in the next frame when he nailed the Lima third baseman's b-liner with a leaping catch.

Carton and Bruck, Urbana laborers staged a little pitcher's hat he all their own. Carton proved to be a penny sort of catcher and returned the onion with Walter Johnson speed. He should be a flinger instead of a retriever.

After a few innings of this shoe string and hairbreadth stuff the independent took it upon themselves to run across another brace and call it a day. Wise and Gallacher scored in the seventh, bringing the tally to 10 and ending the day's festivities.

But it just goes to show that Bruck has collected a bunch of fightin'

One Hand, But Is Star

LEE FEENY

CHICAGO — "You can't get a better racket. Of course, with a single arm I get a much longer swing. But the principal advantage is in accuracy of short hits, when they are needed."

And "Red" Feeny (he's Leo in the family Bible) ought to know. Altho he uses only one hand, his batting average is .416. None of his teammates one. The Resolute Nine can come up with him.

When "Red" was born 23 years ago, his left hand was missing. Was he downcast? None of his infant years was ever shed over that. He simply set to work to make an asset out of a necessity.

"Using only one hand to bat. For a job, he works in a real estate office and drives prospective customers," he explains. "The hat hangers around in his car with the can be swung more like a tennis racket of any taxi chauffeur."

GIBBONS ENTERS N. Y. TO FIGHT BIG FELLOWS

CHAPTER III
SHELBY, Mont. — Jumping into New York right off the bat gave Gibbons a big thrill.

He did a lot of gazing at the tall buildings before he got into the ring, but it evidently didn't hurt his fighting any.

His first opponent in Gotham was Tommy Nelson. Gibbons knocked him out in one round.

That was Dec. 7, 1912. Tommy got $150 for his curd.

Little did he dream then that some day he would return to New York to fight for some of his biggest purses.

REDDY FIRST BOSS
His next fight was April 22, 1913, with Tommy Bergin. Gibbons had scaled down from 164 pounds to 155 pounds since his bout with Nelson. The fight was his on points after 10 rounds.

Eddy Reddy, Jack's brother, was Tommy Gibbons' first manager. But Brother Mike always was with him and was in his corner.

Then came a scrap with Al Worjan in Hudson, Wis. The place seated about 1200. They packed it close to 4000. The aisles were so jammed Tommy literally had to walk over the crowd's shoulders to get into the ring.

He scored a knockout in four rounds. His prize money totaled $400.

After this Tommy turned his attention to the big fellows.

BREAKS MISKE'S JAW
On Feb. 9, 1914, he went into the ring with George (Knockout) Brown. Brown was going good then. But Gibbons won in 10 rounds. That was his hardest and first real fight.

A few days later he took on Billy Miske. Again he won in 10 rounds. And he broke Miske's jaw.

Brown wanted to fight him again. They were matched to go at Madison, Wis. "Knockout" got a worse beating than the first time.

Then Tommy fought Buck Crouse on May 22, and won on a knockout.

On Thanksgiving Day, Tommy went back to New York to fight Billy Glover at Gibbons' club. It took him six rounds to put Billy to sleep.

KEARNS GUESSED WRONG
Feb. 2, 1915, he was matched with one of Jack Kearns' fighters, Billy Murray. Kearns boasted Tommy Gibbons was going to get flattened up properly. A lot of folks believed him.

Kearns' fighter didn't knock him out. Ten rounds and Tommy had convinced folks he had outpointed Murray.

On July 12, he tackled Billy Miske again and outpointed him. Tommy had heard a lot about Harry Greb. Harry wanted to meet Mike's brother. He got the chance to try it Nov. 12.

But Greb had a surprise coming to him—from Mike's brother. (To Be Continued)

Reds Beat
Phillies,
2 to 1

The west is on the ascension in the National League and is doing a bit better than holding its own in the American.

Should the teams west of the Alleghenies continue to display the strength they have shown recently it would not be surprising to see three of them in the first division before another week ends and in first place shortly after.

That the New York Giants can be beaten was shown by both the Chicago Cubs and the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Giants and Pirates resumed their struggle Monday having rested Sunday, the series now being even.

The biggest surprise of the week was the rise of the Chicago Cubs who took three out of four from the Giants and with Sunday's 3 to 0 victory made it three straight over Boston. St. Louis was prevented by rain from playing Brooklyn.

Cincinnati, after a flash of strength two weeks ago, has again come to the fore and much of the credit is due to Adolf Luque, the Cuban twirler who won his seventh game out of eight starts yesterday, beating Philadelphia, 2 to 1.

One of the most remarkable games of the season was played before a crowd of 50,000 at the Yankee stadium, Cleveland losing 3 to 7 to New York in an exciting ninth inning finish, despite four home runs by Indian sluggers.

Repetition Monday of their play Sunday and the Washington Senators will go over the St. Louis Browns. The Senators' victory, 5 to 3, split the series.

Herman Is Koed By Firpo

SAVANNAH, Ga., — Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine aspirant to championship boxing honors had little trouble in disposing of Italian Jack Herman of New York here Sunday afternoon. Firpo won by a knockout in the second round. The bout was to have been 15 rounds.

By defeating Herman, Firpo completed his first engagement of a series of minor bouts which will carry him to Mexico City and later to the Middle West.

By no stretch of imagination could the exhibition put on here be called a boxing match. Firpo simply towed with his slight opponent and held back his hard blows all during the first round. As a matter of fact the blow that ended the bout was not intended to land on a vital point and Firpo looked amazed when Herman fell to the floor in a neutral corner.

Firpo's weight was announced at 217 3-4 pounds. Herman's weight was 182 3-4.

The best, as usual, was the terrific slugging match in the semi-final bout between Casala and Rodriguez. Casala won.

222 Golfers In British Meet

TRON, Scotland—Two hundred and twenty-two of golf's best-calibered stars opened the Monday to finish the range of one of the games most coveted awards—the British open title. Included in the list were a dozen Americans, at least two of whom, Walter Hagen, last year's champion, and Gene Sarazen, are regarded as threatening contenders.

The qualifying rounds to determine the 80 survivors has been divided into 18 holes Monday and 18 Tuesday. Play is over the new and the municipal courses, with each golfer making a round on both.

LIMA INDEPENDENTS SHUT OUT URBANA NINE

Locals Hit Bruck Hard

BY FRANKLYN DOAN
Speaking of teams that ring up dozens of consecutive victories and then run wild with the crown on their head, Lima happens to have a team that knocks them all for a row. At least the fast Urbana team found that out when they left the local orchard on the short end of a 10 to 0 count.

Urbana was the afore mentioned crown mainly because they had played an even three dozen games and had not tasted the bitter pill of defeat once. But the Lima ball players showed the old crown off in the first two or three innings and Earl Bruck, local hurling ace, worked the wildfire with the score running in his direction.

Bruck, the Urbana pitching star, had a rather hard day of it. Every time that he floated the onion pie toward it was sent to some part of the ballpark and many times resulted in safe bingles. The local boys managed to connect for 14 hits.

COMEBACK FEATURES
The big feature of the game was the remarkable comeback of "Flash" Genthlo. All of the local baseball centers had it that the rangy Lima center gardener was on the back end of the team. In Sunday's game he demonstrated that he has the old eyes. At least a homer, a double and a single out of five trips to the plate would make it look that way. In the third inning he drove the ball to the left field wall and after a beautiful run around to third base stretched it and was safe at home, the first four-put hit of the season.

For the first time this year the grounds were filled with rooting fans. And when they left they were satisfied that the local crew doesn't play soft but plays the best game available, and treats them all in like manner.

The Lima clan started out right when they lambasted the union for a double and a single. Coupled with a sacrifice hit and an error, these hits meant as many runs for the local crew in the initial frame. In the third inning they scored again, this time on Costy's homer. One of those wild and woolly stanzas was blown up by the breeze when the Lima team came to bat in the last of the fourth. Bruck aggressively speaking had nothing but a glove and a prayer. He floated the ball toward the plate and some Lima player invariably lifted it to the outfield or gained first with a scorching grounder. In this stanza Wise, Galbreath, Seals, Berry and Theibert crossed the platter, bringing the total to eight.

SOME THRILLS
From then on until the eighth Lima failed to score. Each team played good ball altho the bean boys stood out at all times. The contest was replete with thrills of the big league as well as the bush league variety.

Theibert pulled the prize when he ran to the bleachers in the third and holding on to the bleacher fence made a beautiful catch of Pannini's high foul. Pannini evened it in the next frame when he nailed the Lima third baseman's b-line with a leaping catch.

Cotton and Bruck, Urbana battery men staged a little pitcher's battle all their own. Cotton proved to be a peppy sort of catcher and returned the onion with Walter Johnston speed. He should be a flinger instead of a retriever.

After a few innings of this shoe-aring and hairbreadth stuff the Independents took it upon themselves to run across another brace and call it a day. Wise and Galbreath scored in the seventh, bringing the tally to 10 and ending the day's festivities.

But it just goes to show that Bruck has collected a bunch of fighting ball players and any team that bumps up against them is liable to get a hot reception.

One Hand, But Is Star

LEE PENNY

CHICAGO—There's a better than two.
That means for baseball playing—not checkers.
And "Red" Penny (he's Leo in the family Bible) ought to know. Altho he uses only one hand, his batting average is .416. None of his teammates are the Resolute Nine can come up with him.
When "Red" was born 22 years ago, his left hand was missing. He was downcast? None of his future peers was ever shed over that. He simply set to work to make an asset out of a necessity.
"Using only one hand to bat for a job, he works in a real estate office and drives prospective customers," he explains. "The bat-tomers around in his car with the can be swung more like a tennis racket. Of course, with a single arm I get a much longer swing. But the principal advantage is in accuracy of short hits, when they are needed."
"In the field I can get the ball away just as fast as any of the others. It is just second nature when I catch the ball to duck my glove under the other arm and have the ball free in my hand for the throw."
"I know I'm worth more to the team than if I had two hands," he explains playing baseball with the Resolute Nine, Penny goes in for basketball, football, tennis and golf.
For a job, he works in a real estate office and drives prospective customers around in his car with the can be swung more like a tennis racket.

GIBBONS ENTERS N. Y. TO FIGHT BIG FELLOWS

CHAPTER III
SHELBY, Mont.—Jumping into New York right off the bat gave Gibbons a big thrill.
He did a lot of gazing at the tall buildings before he got into the ring, but it evidently didn't hurt his fighting any.
His first opponent in Gotham was Tommy Nelson. Gibbons knocked him out in one round.
That was Dec. 7, 1912. Tommy got $150 for his end, then that same day he would return to New York to fight for some of his biggest purses.
REDDY FIRST BOSS
His next fight was April 22, 1913, with Tommy Bergin. Gibbons had scaled down from 164 pounds to 155 pounds since his bout with Nelson. The fight was his on points after 10 rounds.
Eddy Reddy Jack's brother, was Tommy Gibbons' first manager. But Brother Mike always was with him and was in his corner.

Then came a scrap with Al Worzin up in Hudson, Wis. The place seated about 1200. They packed it close to 4000. The aisles were so jammed Tommy literally had to walk over the crowd's shoulders to get into the ring.
He scored a knockout in four rounds. His prize money totaled $400.
After this Tommy turned his attention to the big fellows.
BREAKS MISKE'S JAW
On Feb. 9, 1914, he went into the ring with George (Knockout) Brown. Brown was going good then. But Gibbons was in 10 rounds. That was his hardest and first real fight.

A few days later he took on Billy Miske. Again he won in 10 rounds. And he broke Miske's jaw.
Brown wanted to fight him again. They were matched to go at Madison, Wis. "Knockout" got a worse beating than the first time.

Then Tommy fought Buck Cruise on May 22, and won on a knockout.
On Thanksgiving Day, Tommy went back to New York to fight Billy Glover at Gibbons's club. It took him six rounds to put Billy to sleep.

KEARNS GUESSED WRONG
Feb. 2, 1915, he was matched with one of Jack Kearns' fighters, Billy Murray. Kearns boasted Tommy Gibbons was going to get flattened up properly. A lot of folks believed him.
Kearns' fighter didn't knock him out. Ten rounds and Tommy had convinced folks he had outpointed Murray.

On July 12, he tackled Billy Miske again and outpointed him. Tommy had heard a lot about Harry Greb. Harry wanted to meet Mike's brother. He got the chance to try it Nov. 12.
But Greb had a surprise coming to him—from Mike's brother.

Reds Beat Phillies, 2 to 1

The west is on the ascension in the National League and is doing a bit better than holding its own in the American.

Should the teams west of the Alleghenies continue to display the strength they have shown recently it would not be surprising to see three of them in the first division before another week ends and in first place shortly after.

BUSINESS IS NOT DEAD OR DYING

Warning Against Misunderstanding of Conditions Sounded

BREATHING SPELL TAKEN

Success Largely Matter of Winning Men, Forbes Says

(By B. C. FORBES)

Don't rush to the conclusion that business has been taking a breathing spell, it is dead or dying.

Winning business success is largely a matter of winning men. Also, success is largely a matter of leadership. Success consists of the approval, the acceptance by others of one's efforts, one's products, one's nature.

There is a pointed incident bearing on this. Ernest T. Trigg, President of John Lucas & Co., of Philadelphia, who has earned a reputation as a parliamentarian, a diplomat, and a master salesman, found himself in what he called a "hot" situation at a meeting of the company's directors. One group of men who were in the industrial concerns had been plotting to make a concerted move on the boss to secure a lower price schedule. They had selected their spokesman the veteran chairman of the company, a man of excellent record and fine character.

Mr. S., one of the leading salesmen, opened the attack, and then Mr. Trigg transferred it to Mr. L., the salesman, who carried on the attack. Then he said to Mr. L.: "You know, L., one of the things I have always admired in your work is your ability to impress upon your clients the importance of getting a reasonable price for Lucas products."

Thus stimulated, Mr. L. immediately launched into an enthusiastic explanation of how little importance price was in selling quality goods. He had provided for himself and his associates the real answer to the price question.

Apparently we might as well order our coal now.

A few facts gleaned at this week's annual convention of the National Electric Light Association in New York.

In eight years electric light and power companies alone have accumulated $15,000,000,000 in assets, and the company stock market is estimated to be that of $1,000,000,000 customer stock, which will be rolled up within the next three years.

General progressive companies to hold annual meetings in ten different communities throughout the country, supplementing the general progress by music and entertainment in order to attract customers.

T. E. Grand, President of the National Electric Co., this year moved his address at the annual convention, and the company even sent for him to receive the company's award for his service to the company.

The Southern California Edison Co. is now constructing one project more than the Panama Canal.

A recent reception was accorded to Mr. B. C. Forbes, vice president and general manager of the P. G. and E. Co., at a motor repair and service station in the city.

George and employees, it is estimated from now on furnish a large part of the industry's requirements. The company's stock is being sold to approximately 100,000 people.

There is one recent utility company, included lawyers, engineers, government officials, bankers, barbers, butchers, shoemakers, and housewives, who are all active in the industry.

There is a fifty or five hundred dollar amount to a company, and it is not a matter of how you get it, but how you get it without feeling it.

There is a seven per cent interest rate on a company, and it is not a matter of how you get it, but how you get it without feeling it.

MUTT AND JEFF—MUTT LENDS JEFF A WILLING HAND—

SHORT SHAVINGS

John Gores and Will Wank claim the nonstop fishing record of Paulding.

They angled for 36 hours straight running without getting so much as a single bite. This was in the Maumee River. They started at 1 a. m. and kept it up until the following night at 11:50 p. m.

Bert Colbert reports a young woman who was a stranger in town had lunch at the Feller Hotel, at Waterloo, O.

When she finished she stopped at the cigar stand in the lobby, bought a couple of cigars, put one in her handbag and lighted the other. "And they say," says Colbert, "that nothing ever happens at Waterloo."

Ray Kennedy, detective, went to Middle Bass Island near Put-in-Bay. He said he wouldn't fish. He wouldn't dig bait. He wouldn't do anything but rest. Along came one of the members of the party.

He had a flint arrow head. "Where did you find it?" "Dug it up." "Where?" "Right over there." "Are there any more?" "Lots of them. Left by Indians." "Where's the shovel?" "The Wise-cracker dug up half the field."

He didn't find any arrow heads. But others who followed him with tin cans got all the angle-worms they wanted for bait.

J. E. Summers, tailor, made a rash promise to carry a couple of books home for a neighbor. "When I told him I would do it," he says, "I didn't know the books were two bound volumes of newspapers for 1909."

Fred Winkler, Lake View, left a black coat hanging on a wall where decorators were at work. When he returned the coat was generously and evenly speckled with yellow plikadots. "The effect is interesting, but loud," he says. "I don't know—I might wear it next Easter."

Victor Kilgus, R. D. 1 Lafayette, tells in a letter to this office that when he was a little chap it was snowing one day. Sleighs were passing his home and when he noticed them, he called to his mother and said, "Come and look at the scoot buggies going past."

H. G. Mosley reports he saw a redheaded woodpecker pecking at the fin pipe from the eave trough on his house at Spring Center, O. He scared the bird away before it could make a hole in the pipe. "There ought to be a law," he says, "against a woodpecker doing that."

Among the oddities one may see most anywhere is this one, told by James May, 675 N. West-st. James writes: "Last Sunday we were out riding in an automobile and when we approached a railroad crossing a sign confronted us, bearing this legend: 'Danger Railroad Crossing Sound Horn.'"

Good to the last drop

Nothing but many years of coffee experience could give the housekeeper her calm confidence in the unvarying flavor of Maxwell House.
